Fund Benefits

Higher expected returns than cash¹

The Fund has a track record of delivering returns exceeding cash and inflation since inception². As these returns are independent of market direction, Ardea expects to maintain a level of outperformance in rising and falling markets irrespective of the level of the cash rate.

An easier way to access your investment

The Fund offers daily trading on the ASX, without break costs that can apply to certain cash products.

Lower risk than many income seeking investments³

The Fund invests in high-quality government bonds and cash securities, which have lower credit risk, unlike bank hybrids and corporate bonds, while also using sophisticated risk management strategies to help volatility compared to dividend paying stocks.

Defensive fixed income anchor that helps diversify investment portfolio risk

The Fund targets positive returns that are independent of interest rate fluctuations and general market volatility. Combining this with proven risk management strategies allows the Fund to help diversify your portfolio risk away from equities, property and credit investments.

Protect the purchasing power of your investment

In addition to outperforming⁴ cash, the Fund targets returns exceeding inflation, which helps protect the long term purchasing power of your investment.

Experienced and stable investment team: Ardea's investment team has decades of experience across global fixed income markets. Majority employee ownership of the Ardea business fosters team stability.

Portfolio Commentary

The portfolio delivered a return of +1.10% for the quarter.

Rolling quarterly performance remains within the normal range of expected performance variability, based on the portfolio's volatility target.

As usual, performance drivers for the quarter were diversified across small gains / losses generated by many modestly sized trades, with no unusually concentrated performance drivers.

Curve RV strategies contributed positive performance. (+0.74%)

Bond RV strategies contributed positive performance. (+0.51%)

Option exposures contributed positive performance. (+0.02%)

Inflation beta exposure contributed negative performance. (-0.04%)

Explanatory Notes

- The normal range of expected performance variability is defined relative to the portfolio's volatility / TE target (2.0% p.a.). Based on this, quarterly excess returns should mostly be within a range of -0.5% / +1.5% (1 std dev band, 68% of sample) and sometimes outside this range, but no wider than -1.5% / +2.5% (2 std dev band, incremental 27% of sample).
- Curve RV strategies seek to profit from RV pricing anomalies in the shapes of interest rate curves.
- Bond RV strategies seek to profit from RV pricing anomalies in specific government bonds.
- Option exposures stem from RV trades that involve buying interest rate options. These exposures are biased to outperform in periods of market stress and are used to balance risk vs other types of RV trades that may temporarily underperform at such times.
- Inflation beta exposure stems from the portfolio's structural exposure to market-based inflation pricing through holdings of inflation-linked bonds and inflation swaps.

Understanding Performance

The Underlying Fund's highly differentiated investment approach generates returns exclusively from capturing RV mispricing opportunities across global interest rate markets. This approach is intentionally independent of the level of bond yields, the direction of interest rates and broader bond market themes.

The Underlying Fund's portfolio construction process intentionally diversifies risk across many different types of independent and modestly sized RV trades. Therefore, performance is the cumulative result of interactions between hundreds of trades entered, exited, and held over the preceding months.

For these reasons, the Underlying Fund's performance is ordinarily not driven by a few key trades, nor can it be mapped to broader market fluctuations or macro themes. This is intentional, because the Underlying Fund aims to deliver volatility-controlled returns that exhibit low correlation to the performance of government bond, credit, and equity markets. This is precisely why the Underlying Fund can offer compelling diversification benefits when combined with conventional investments.

Please note that monthly performance attribution is heavily influenced by short-term 'noise' and ordinarily offers little genuine information value.
